Valereum Plc Announces 'The Bridge' V1 DFMI is now Demo Ready

Valereum is pleased to announce it has reached the demo readiness phase of The Bridge V1 DFMI (Digital Financial Market Infrastructure), a proprietary and innovative technology solution for capital markets, developed in partnership with Securities & Trading Technology (STT). After more than 5 years in development and a multi-million pound investment, this is a momentous step forward in Valereum's mission to revolutionise global market infrastructure.

The Bridge platform integrates the issuance, trading, settlement, and custody of tokenised assets, offering "T-Instant" settlement to eliminate the inefficiencies inherent in traditional financial systems. This demo enables Valereum to showcase its technology to clients and partners, and develop licensing opportunities with financial institutions and digital asset players to explore bringing the platform to market.

The Bridge is designed to address critical inefficiencies in legacy financial systems by:

Reducing transaction costs and unlocking capital tied up in central counterparties
Eliminating credit, counterparty, and replacement cost risks through pre-funded, instant settlement

As a comprehensive and secure DFMI, The Bridge is designed to deliver unprecedented efficiency, transparency, and accessibility. It is testament to Valereum's commitment to driving the next wave of innovation in tokenised markets.

Daryl McFarlane, Valereum CTO, commented:

"From the initial concept to this milestone, the team have dedicated countless hours of passion and hard work to bring this turn-key solution to life. Reaching the Bridge V1 Demo phase is a huge step forward in our mission to revolutionise the way financial markets operate."
