South African Prospecting Right Reinstated

West Wits Mining Limited ("West Wits" or "the Company") is pleased to announce it has received confirmation from the Department of Mineral Resources ("DMR") that its application for the renewal of its prospecting right has been approved for a further three years. After a long process the board is pleased that it is again in control of the development of the DRD Prospecting Right and Rand Leases ("the Soweto Cluster"). The Company has made significant investment in the Soweto Cluster through delineating a JORC resource of 287,000 ozs but in addition has identified a number of further prospective areas which it can now investigate.

In conjunction with these technical investigations the Company will now progress a number discussions, which had been placed on hold pending this decision, which relate to the development of the Soweto Cluster. Michael Quinert, Chairman commented "this is a very positive step for the Company. We can now again focus on how to best deliver value from these assets for shareholders be that through development, joint venture or sale. There are a number of strategies in place and discussions can be reinstated. The board is delighted with the decision as these assets form a key plank in restoring shareholder value in addition to the Company's Indonesian assets."

West Wits looks forward to providing further updates on both the technical investigations it plans to undertake as well as corporate discussions surrounding how the assets are taken forward.
