Highlights

- Harvey Norman to sell Spacetalk Kids device
- Stocking at 120 Harvey Norman stores throughout Australia
- Online and in-store ranging in time for Christmas sales
- Significant new distribution channel and further endorsement of Spacetalk

Spacetalk Ltd. (ASX:SPA) ("Spacetalk" or "Company"), developer of innovative technologies which keep families safe and connected, is pleased to announce that Harvey Norman, one of Australia's largest consumer electronics retailers, will commence selling the Spacetalk Kids device.

Harvey Norman will initially stock the Spacetalk Kids all-in-one smartphone watch with GPS, and accessory products, at 120 Harvey Norman stores throughout Australia. Online and in-store ranging will commence in time for Christmas trading.

In its 2020 Annual Report, Harvey Norman notes: "To date, the biggest consumer change we have seen in our 8 countries, is the elevated importance of family…Our brands are well placed to take advantage of this trend." The importance of family support and connectivity supports Spacetalk's core value proposition of building socially responsible technologies for families to feel safe and connected, so that they can live with independence, confidence and joy.

Spacetalk CEO Mark Fortunatow said: "We are extremely excited by the ranging of our Spacetalk Kids device at Harvey Norman stores throughout Australia; opening significant new online and bricks-and-mortar sales channels with a leading consumer retailer. The timing of the ranging for Christmas trading could not be more opportune."

This announcement has been authorized by Spacetalk CEO Mark Fortunatow.

About Spacetalk Ltd.

Spacetalk Ltd. (ASX: SPA) is an Australian Securities Exchange listed technology company that develops innovative technologies to enrich connections between families, schools and society.

Founded in 2001 as MGM Wireless, the Company developed the world's first SMS student absence notification platform for schools. MGM Wireless listed on the ASX in 2003 and went on to become Australia's most successful school messaging company.

Leveraging this history and deep understanding of school-with-family communication and student safety, the Company set out in 2017 to conceive, develop and launch a safe technology ecosystem for families. The market-leading Spacetalk range of all-in-one smartphone watches for children and seniors, and paired family app platform, are purpose built with tailored features, design qualities and data protection for families to stay confidently connected.

The Company changed its name to Spacetalk Ltd. on 12 November 2020.
