DELOREAN LAUNCHES INVESTOR HUB FOR INVESTOR ENGAGEMENT

Delorean Corporation (ASX: DEL) ("Delorean" or "the Company") is committed to enhanced, more meaningful and more effective communications with current and future shareholders, as well as other stakeholders who may have an interest in understanding the growth path of the Company.

Delorean has therefore launched a new interactive Investor Hub for dedicated investor engagement, enabling Delorean shareholders, stakeholders, and prospective investors to learn more about Delorean's activities and communicate with the Company's leadership team directly.

Delorean invites shareholders and interested parties to join.

How to join Delorean's new Investor Hub:

1. Visit https://investorhub.deloreancorporation.com.au/
2. Follow the prompts to sign up for an account.
3. Complete your account profile.

Delorean has a dedicated portal to the Investor Hub platform and any subscriber information will be confined and used only for Delorean's own direct communications with subscribers. Investors with Investor Hub accounts will receive direct updates on Delorean's news and may gain access to exclusive company events and corporate opportunities.

Comment from Delorean Managing Director, Joe Oliver:

"We are committed to strengthening investor engagement through our new Investor Hub, enabling direct, transparent, and frequent communication. The Investor Hub platform enables our shareholders and the broader investor community to ask questions, share feedback on ASX announcements and company updates, and engage in open discussions with Delorean management. Building strong relationships with our shareholders is a key priority for our team as we continue to grow and drive the bioenergy sector in Australasia."

Authorised on behalf of the Delorean Corporation Board of Directors by Hamish Jolly, Executive Chair.

About Delorean Corporation Limited

Delorean Corporation is a pioneering Australian bioenergy company specialising in the design, build, ownership and management of bioenergy infrastructure, associated generation of renewable electricity and renewable gas in the form of biomethane. Delorean Corporation comprises a group of four vertically integrated companies positioned in two high growth industries.

DEL's projects produce renewable energy whilst reducing the volume of waste going to landfill. DEL is therefore placed in rapidly growing sectors with strong macro drivers, and utilises a model that generates multiple revenue streams.

Delorean Corporation has the inhouse capability to deliver bioenergy projects across the full lifecycle, from project conception to completion, processing organic waste, generating renewable energy and monetisation of electricity, heat and gas
