Shareholder Update - clarification

In reference to today's Shareholder Update released by Energy Technologies Ltd (ASX:EGY), it is confirmed that the update was released to market under the principles of disclosure to shareholders and to coincide with published interviews used for investor guidance. The update is not intended to be a profit guidance and the reference to Bambach being expected to grow its business from its existing revenues of between $14-$18 m per annum to revenues of estimated $40m over the short to medium term future refers to projections under the business plan for revenue growth under the combined Bambach and Advance cables sales once the new factory facility is fully operational. The medium term period is in reference to the future one to two financial periods through FY2020 and FY2021.
