SRI research Update

N4 Pharma Plc (AIM: N4P), the specialist pharmaceutical company developing Nuvec®, a novel delivery system for cancer treatments, gene therapy and vaccines, is pleased to provide an update on its work with SRI International ("SRI").

Further to the Company's announcement on 25 April 2024, SRI has successfully completed the chemistry work and shown that a Fox Three Molecular Guidance System ("MGS") can be added to Nuvec®without altering its loading capability. SRI has then attached an siRNA compound to the combined Nuvec®/ Fox three MGS and demonstrated that this is clearly internalized into only the targeted cell type.

The next step is to show that this siRNA still retains its functionality in the target cell.

Nigel Theobald, Chief Executive Officer of the Company, commented:

"This is an exciting development for us as it clearly shows that Nuvec®is capable of targeting specific cells via the addition of a relevant ligand, something the industry is actively looking for.

"We will now start working on a combined marketing pitch deck allowing SRI and N4 Pharma to present this data and its implications to major pharma and biotech players that need a targeting delivery system for their nucleic acid programs."

About N4 Pharma
N4 Pharma is a specialist pharmaceutical company developing a novel delivery system for oncology, gene therapy and vaccines using its unique silica nanoparticle delivery system called Nuvec® and Liptide, a unique peptide/lipid delivery system via its subsidiary Nanogenics.

N4 Pharma's business model is to partner with companies developing products in these fields to use Nuvec® or Liptide® as the delivery vehicle for these products. As these products progress through pre clinical and clinical programs, N4 Pharma will seek to receive upfront payments, milestone payments and ultimately royalty payments once products reach the market.
